Jeter, Brady Headlining Michigan Signing Day Event

Two of the biggest stars in sports will help welcome Michigan’s 2016 recruiting class, SI.com has learned.

Four-time Super Bowl-winning quarterback Tom Brady and five-time World Series champion Derek Jeter will be in Ann Arbor on National Signing Day for Michigan’s “Signing of the Stars” party.

Brady and Jeter will add undeniable buzz to a program that has generated plenty since Jim Harbaugh took over a year ago. From Harbaugh’s “Summer Swarm” recruiting tour to his sleepover at a recruit’s house, he has had Michigan in the middle of the college football conversation since he took over.

The Wolverines went 10-3 in Harbaugh’s first season.

The “Signing of the Stars” event is the latest unconventional move by Harbaugh. Brady and Jeter will be the biggest stars at an event that will include pro wrestler Ric Flair; former Tigers manager Jim Leyland; former NFL coach Mike Shanahan; former Michigan players Desmond Howard, Denard Robinson and Jon Jansen; longtime collegiate head coach Lou Holtz; baseball pitcher Derek Holland; actress Jessica Szohr; NASCAR driver Brad Keselowski; musicians Josh Gracin, Jack Kennedy, Mayer Hawthorne and Migos; and ESPN draft expert Todd McShay.

Along with the obvious promotional benefit for the football program, Michigan hopes the event raises awareness and money for the ChadTough Foundation for pediatric brain tumors research. The ChadTough foundation honors Chad Carr, the grandson of former Michigan football coach Lloyd Carr, who passed away in November.

Michigan’s recruiting class is ranked fifth in the country on Scout.com and could move higher if the nation’s No. 1 overall prospect, defensive tackle Rashan Gary of New Jersey, chooses the Wolverines. Gary is expected to announce his decision Wednesday. Michigan is considered the favorite to land him.

COMPLIANT ALL-STAR LINEUP OF THE MONTH

Congratulations to the ENTIRE FOOTBALL STAFF, who were the January “Compliance All-Stars!”

On the heels of a historic season, and weathering of a very busy recruiting period, the entire Football staff was diligent in ensuring their activities were compliant both on and off-campus.

Congrats to you all, and keep up the great work everybody else!!

Violation of the Month - Participation Awards

Facts of the Case
A director of women’s basketball operations permitted three student-athletes to receive awards for participation in intercollegiate athletics that was over the $425 annual award limit that can be provided to seniors. Specifically, the director of ops asked a company that specializes in framing jerseys for 4 basketball jerseys to be framed which would cost $225 for each jersey. The director of ops realized that the $225 plus the additional awards that will be given to the seniors would be going over the annual amount they are permitted to receive each year. The director of ops proceeded to request the company to manipulate the invoice to show a lesser price for the 3 jerseys (going to student-athletes) and the remaining balance to be assigned to the 4th jersey (going to a coach) so it looked like the cost of the student-athlete’s award was less than it actually was.

Institutional Action
- Letter of reprimand to the director of operations.
- Rules education was required to the entire staff.
